"I don't need emotion in my preaching to prove the truth, I need emotion in my preaching to open hearts to receive the truth." — Doug Gregory

"Do your duty" — Dan Winkler, BETTER SOUTHWEST, 2019

"There is no excuse for stepping into the pulpit unprepared...If there are two hundred people in the congregation, it would take you almost seventy hours to have a twenty-minute visit with each one. No one has the right to waste that much time." — George Buttrick (Leadership)

"He who does the Lord's work without talking to the Lord tries to do the Lord's work without the Lord's help." — James Meadows

"So pray and so preach that, if there are no conversions, you will be astonished, amazed and broken-hearted." — Charles Spurgeon

"God, I am your servant. I place myself in your hands. You do with this situation what you think best. May I respond to whatever happens in such a way that You will be glorified." — Don Shackleford, p 377 Truth for Today, Commentary, Isaiah.

"Let your mission ever be to turn every obstacle, every problem, every bump, every burden, every hurt and every hurdle into open doors to ministry to the glory of the name of the Lord. Life is ministry."
