Back when a printed newspaper was delivered to your front door every day, I always enjoyed what my father called the section called “the funny paper “. A section of the paper of a series of drawings that told a story or made you laugh, some of my favorites were usually just a single pane, one picture. “The Family Circle “was one of these. A father telling a story about his houseful of children in a single picture. Often, he would draw a picture about his young son and his misadventures. He told his son to go to the garage and get him a rake and bring it to him. Little footprints dotted the page and showed his sons path through the backyard to retrieve the rake. Down the playground slide and a on a swing, chase the cat and throw a ball the dog, climb a tree and watch a bird. Finally, the garage and the rake brought to his father. The path that leads us to faith and service to God our Father is often the same way it’s easy to let life pull us away. What was your path like this week?
Thy word lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.... Psalm 119 ~Thomas
